

VACANCY INFORMATION

Location.

Stafford – Texas

Position.

Application Engineer

Job description.

- Job Status: Full-Time.
- Application Engineer job responsibilities include sizing and selection of proper pump, driver, mechanical seal, accessory selection and final preparation of proposals. Will interface with Engineering Department, Sales Engineers, Vendors, and Customers. Responsible for correlating technical and commercial information from RP factories and buyout vendors. Knowledge fields used in this position include: hydraulic and mechanical design, customer system application requirements, cost procurement and analysis, metallurgical material specifications, machining and fabrication design, installation practices, quality assurance systems, and sales/marketing situations. All work oriented towards successful completion of sale. Rewarding career opportunity with excellent pay and benefits. Need is immediate.

Requirements.

- Graduate Student Degree/College Major: Engineering degree required, Mechanical discipline preferred (other engineering disciplines considered).
- Overall GPA Preferred: 3.5
- Fluent in English.
- Start Date: Immediately.
- Citizenship: Citizen or Permanent Resident (eligible to work full-time in Texas without sponsorship).

Information of the Company.

Our company, the Ruhrpumpen Group (RP), has been manufacturing centrifugal pumps for over 50 years for all markets including Oil & Gas, Power, Municipal & General Industry. Visit us at www.ruhrpumpen.com. Send resume to jkennedy@ruhrpumpen.com